Dear Friends,

Paediatric hip pathologies form a significant number of cases in any orthopaedic setup. With its varied presentation, conditions of the hip pose a significant dilemma both in diagnosis and management even for the most experienced.

Paediatric hip pathologies are frequently a part of both theory as well as practical examination of a post-graduate course so a command on the subject becomes essential for a successful specialization.

We hope that this CME on paediatric hip will be a focused attempt in clarifying various doubts pertaining to hip pathologies. Please participate actively in our endeavour and enhance current understanding on the subject.
